

Treatment of love in Revolution 2020 by Chetan Bhagat

¹Rajkumar Bharti and ²Dr. Satkala

¹Research Scholar, Shri JJT University Jhunjhunu, (RJ)

²Assistant Professor of English, Shri JJT University Jhunjhunu, (RJ)

ARTICLE DETAILS

Article History

Published Online: 25 May 2019

Keywords

Love, human relationship, real image and ray and hope.

ABSTRACT

Chetan Bhagat a young novelist writes about the social issues of the contemporary era. He presents real image and problems of the modern young generation. He exposes the true love and human relationships in his works. He writes about the love relationships without social barriers. In his literary works the readers feel a new ray of hope to come out of their depression.

The young novelist Chetan Bhagat presents different moods of human life in his literary works. Love, hate, sorrows and sufferings of man's life is exposed in his novels. His main purpose of writing novels is to guide the youth of the nation in their social and personal life. Man's life is full of hopes and desires. Too many desires in life may cause the indiscipline in life. A man does not want to get distress in life but sometime he has to face misfortune. Being a social animal a man needs love, attention and care from his other fellow beings. A man needs company of someone to share his inner feelings and emotions which bind the two or more than two in a single thread of mankind. Love cannot be bought with money but can be won with deep sense of love and affection. In all the novels of Chetan Bhagat the feeling of love is felt in one way or the other. The feeling of love is not found only in men and women but also in men and men. All the males and females are connected with each other in one way or the other. But sometime things happen when we least expect them. Bhagat focuses on the burning issues and gives solutions. No doubt in saying Bhagat personally feels the pain and sorrows of human beings.

In the novel, Revolution 2020 C. Bhagat presents the friendship between a girl (Aarti) and two boys (Gopal & Raghav). They are close friends since their childhood. Gopal and Aarti are deeply connected with each other. Gopal does not have mother and his father is also ill. So he is always in needs of love and affection. Aarti understands Gopal very much and she always supports him at every step of life. She always wishes a sweet future for Gopal. She spends time in his company and enjoys boating. Her father is an IAS office and she belongs to a royal family. She wishes to be an air hostess. She also respects Raghav because of his intellectual. Gopal and Raghav appear in the AIEEE examination but does Gopal not get success. Raghav gets success in getting admission in engineering because of his good rank. Gopal becomes very sad and nervous. When his father comes to know that Gopal has failed in his mission he becomes very sad and angry. All the hopes prove like nectar in a sieve. Here we came to realize fatherly love and care for his son. In the modern time the youth some time do not care of their parent's wish and face bad consequences. Gopal feels sorry for what he has done in his life. His farther expects that Gopal will get success in his career but luck does not help him much. He also takes admission in Kota coaching classes to fulfil his father's wish. In Kota he misses Aarti very much and fails to qualify the entrance examination.

The sweet memories of Aarti always lurk in his mind. He tries to keep in touch with Aarti via email. But as soon as Aarti realizes that Gopal is detaching with his study she signs him off from her friends list. Gopal does not bear the over attachment of Raghav with Aarti. Aarti starts spending much time in the company of Raghav. The mutual understanding between them grows up day by day. They start thinking about their future life. Gopal does take it easy and he does not like Raghav's close friendship with Aarti. But after losing his father he feels all alone in this world. He needs Aarti's company but nobody cares him. After his father's death he joins his hands with Shukla ji. Shukla ji helps him to solve his property disputes. He gets success in opening a new engineering college named Ganga Tech engineering college.

He gets power and money. Raghav remains busy in his journalism and he does not give much to time to Aarti. Aarti does not like this and she also feels all alone in this world of competition. She misses her first love and to share her personal feelings. She moves towards Gopal. Gopal and Aarti again start meeting and enjoying with each other. They enjoy sexual relationship and with the passage of time the reality of their relationship is exposed. Both want to make marry but Gopal realizes that he is no good for Aarti. So he makes a plan and on the day of his birthday he hires some whores and when Aarti takes it seriously she immediately leaves the room and says good bye to him forever. All this was pre planned by Gopal because he does not want to attach her name with his name.

There is a reason behind this conspiracy first he himself realizes that Aarti likes his luxurious life more than him. Secondly he does not want to deceive his friend Raghav who is a social reformer now and he is working as a journalist. The triangle of love is beautifully presented by the novelist Chetan Bhagat. The reality of human relationship is exposed. The real causes and facts which are harmful for the human world and environment are presented in his novels.

Chetan Bhagat presents fatherly love and attention towards his son. It is the reality of the modern time that people do believe in materialistic things and they do not care about human relationship. Some of the people adjust themselves with time and circumstances.

It is very much clear in the novel that Aarti uses both the young guys to satisfy her lust and to pass her time. She is not true to anyone. She misuses her freedom. Her parent's authority boosts her all the times. It also shows that she is representing the whole modern society. Today's women have empowered in every walk of life. They do not have inferior complex. They can live their life as per their own rule. In the metropolitan cities women have equal rights and freedom like men. They work in the nights shifts, enjoy kitty parties and other such type of activities which are not accepted in an orthodox society.

Aarti lives her life happily. She does not face any financial problem in her life. She is a bold character and she knows very well how to use a man. She is not exploited but she faces every obstacle of his life with courage and determination. She motivates Gopal to get the ultimate goal of his life. She always supports Raghav and Gopal in their respective fields. We know that Gopal loves her very much but he himself realizes that he is nothing for her. Raghav is very much better than him for Aarti. In the end we see that his goodness of head and heart help her to get solutions of the problems in her life. Here we also realize that whatever God does he does in for the welfare of mankind.

Reference

1. Bhagat, Chetan. Revolution 2020. Rupa & Co, 2011.