ABSTRACT

Sexual Exploitation of woman and girl child on Internet has become a serious social problem with the development of Science and Information Technology. This global communication network is being used to promote buying and selling of woman and young girls. Enjoyment of sex through Internet Services has assumed the shape of industry. Heavy capitals are deployed in this industry on global scale. It has databased management. It sets online catalogue through video conferencing of live sex. A good number of Pornographers & Pimps' are involved in this business.

INTRODUCTION

The Internet is playing vital role in the field of Marketing of the sex Trade. It creates opportunities and provides exhaustive sex concerning information on global scale and are technically called 'Archives'. its aim is to create market transparency for sex- related services. The world sex Guides provides "Comprehensive sex related information about every country in the world".

Prostitution tours, Bride trafficking, Live Video conferencing, wired Magazines sites and Hot Spot. Web sites like Massage Parlor, Discos, Escort Services, A lady House, Dance Club, A shorttime Hotel, blow job bar and crystal Friendship club are the source of trafficked women for the purposes of Sexual Exploitation.

Global sexual exploitation is on the rise. The profits are high, and there are effective barriers at the moment. Because there is little regulation of the Internet, the traffickers and promoters of sexual exploitation have rapidly utilized the Internet for their purposes.'

Traffickers and Pornographers are the leading developers of the Internet industry. PC computing magazine urges entrepreneurs to visit pornography Web sites. "It will show you to the future of on-line commerce. Web pornographers are the most innovative entrepreneurs in the internet". "The pornographers and other promoters of sexual exploitation are the internet leaders in the developing privacy services, secure payment schemes and online data base management.

The internet is playing successful role in the field of marketing of the sex trade. it creates opportunities and provides exhaustive sex concerning information on global scale. Guides and agents are there dealing with the industry. They are providing full information about the women prostitutes. The names, address of the prostitutes, their locations, route leading to their places, their telephone numbers and prices with the current currency exchange rates are made available to the customers on different web sites. Over and above the web sites are also providing the full details such as the look and physical shape of the girls and women, their education, hobbies, height and skin colour as well as other exciting sexual factors which are raising attraction and temptation of the prostitutes.

In the modern age, the concept of prostitution has taken very wide shape of industry through global internet. The privileged class as well as such more from the middle class people are enjoying the pleasure through the advanced internet and computer technology. The World Sex Guide provides "comprehensive, sex-related information about every country in the world.

The guide includes information-and advice from men who have bought women and children in prostitution. They tell others where and how to find and buy prostituted women and children in 110 countries.

PROSTITUTION TOURS

Centres for prostitution tourism are also the sources of women trafficked for purposes of sexual exploitation to other countries. For centres of prostitution in European countries. women from poor countries are imported legally and illegally to fill the brothels. Among the largest sources of trafficked women today are the countries of the former Soviet Union. Advertisements for prostitution tours to these sites appear on the internet, usually described as "romance tours" or "introduction tours."5

BRIDE TRAFFICKING

Mail order bride agents have moved to the internet as their preferred marketing location. The internet reaches a prime group of potential buyers-men from Western countries with higher than average incomes. The new technology enables Web pages to be quickly and easily updated. The internet reaches a global audience faster and less expensively than any other media.

LIVE VIDEO CONFERENCING

The most advanced technology on the internet is live video Conferencing in which live audio and video are transmitted over the internet from video recorder to computer. This advanced technology is being used to sell live sex shows over the internet. Real time communication is possible, so the man can personally direct the live sex as he is viewing it on his computer.

The only limitation on this type of global sex show is the need for high speed transmission, processing and multimedia capabilities. The software required is free but the most recent versions of web browsers have these capabilities built into them. As more men have access to high speed multimedia computer and transmission equipment, this type of private sex show will grow. There are no legal restrictions on live sex shows that can be transmitted over the internet.

PURPOSE OF THE STUDY

The main purpose of this study is to highlight how the internet or the information superhighway is fast becoming the latest and the best place for promoting global trafficking and sexual exploitation of women and also girl children.

METHODOLOGY

I have adopted secondary sources for this Research work. The data and materials are collected from news papers, research journals, abstracts related reports, leading magazines, pornographic materials and prostitution websites.

FINDINGS OF THE STUDY

Sexual pleasure can be made available on one's computer monitoring while sitting at home. Thus he may be entertained by a beautiful girl for a safe sex. For such things there are Internet Entertainment Group (EIG) web who are trading in women in the above manner as well as wired magazines sites, the world Sex Guide. Report on present knowledge of Hot-spot and websites like-Massage parlor, Discos, Escort services. A lady house, Dance club, A short time Hotel, blowjob bar site, romance tools etc. Are available.

Further it is due to the result of flourishing sex Industry that India has put in several dance bars and parlors. Here girls from middle class families are making their fortunes in exchange of their bodies.

Mobile phones have also become important tools of the sex Industry. it is due to its technological development that one can watch blue films on his mobile's screen. Thereafter the nude pictures are being shifted to other cellular phones like a message.

That is called Multimedia Messaging (M.M.M)'

Many of those in the business of pornography are not deterred by today's technical difficulties in delivering cell phone video. Tender. Messaging school and college going girls are in this way being ruined. All these affairs are damaging the norms and values of our culture and society.

Pre-marital sex is rapidly growing in the society in the name of advancement.

So, the global sexual exploitation is one rise. More the globalization, more would be growth of the sex- industry. A vast field is likely to emerge into the sex-industry in India too. The thirst for sex-related content would drive the popularity of internet enables cabled phones.

SOLUTION & REGULATION

The new technologies of the internet have leapt over national borders and have left lawmakers scrambling to catch up. Internet users have adopted an unbridled libertarianism. Any kind of regulation or restriction is met with hysterics and predictions of a totalitarian society. Even the most conservative restrictions on the transmission of child pornography are greeted with cries of censorship.

Expressions of concern of Condemnation of forms of sexual exploitation of women and children on the internet are minimized by claims that Pornographers have always been the first to take advantage of new technology. Those concerned about the use of the internet for sexual exploitation are chastened with history lectures on new technology and pornography.

We need international judicial and police cooperation in regulating the internet and ending the trafficking of women and the girls. The countries that send the men on prostitution tours and receive the mail order prides should also ban the operation of such agencies and prohibit the advertisement of these services from computer server in their country.

All forms of sexual exploitation should be recognized as forms of violence against women and human rights violations and governments should act accordingly.
