The periods of peace have been few but they have always been glorious ones.

It looks odd if anybody say that the wars bring fruitful time when it comes to an end. Thousands of soldiers and even common civilians were killed in two major wars of the twentieth century, World War I and World War II.

After the World War II, UNO was set up, whose chief aim was to ensure peace and security in the world. India is also playing a good role in bringing peace in the world by suggesting the destruction of nuclear weapons across the world. International Day of Peace is also provide awareness about the Peace. UN decided to celebrate international Peace Day in 1982. Peace means freedom from war and terror. Peace is necessary for life for living and happiness.

World peace is an idea of freedom, peace and happiness among everyone. World peace is an idea of a world without violence, where nations try to work with each other. World peace could mean equal human rights, technology, free education for everyone, engineering, availability of medicine, diplomats and an end to all forms of fighting.

A report in May 2011 on the Global Peace Index found that if the world had been 25% more peaceful in the previous year, the global economy would have had an additional $2 trillion. This amount would have covered 2% of the GDP per year required to avoid the worst effects of global warming, cover all costs to achieve the Millennium Development Goals, cancel the public debt held by Greece, Iceland and Portugal, and cover the one-time rebuilding costs for the 2011 Tohoku earthquake and tsunami.

Many religions believe in world peace. The League of Nations and the United Nations were created to make world peace. Many theoists, however, believe that humans were born to be violent and preventing it would not be possible because it is nature.
peace is a time without any fights or woes. In a larger sense, peace can mean a state of harmony, quiet or calm that is not disturbed by anything at all, like a still pond with no ripples. Many people and organizations want peace. One organization that was set up to bring peace among the nations and try to make war a thing of the past was the League of Nations after World War I. When it did not stop World War II, it was replaced by the United Nations which tries to make the world peaceful. This means that if any member is attacked or invaded by another country without attacking that country first, the other members will come to help the country that was attacked first. This idea was used by the United Nations to defend both South Korea and Kuwait when they were attacked.

Peace of mind, serenity and calmness are descriptions of a disposition free from the effects of stress. In some cultures, inner peace is considered a state of consciousness or enlightenment that may be cultivated by various forms of training, such as prayer, meditation, Tai Chi, or yoga, for example. Many spiritual practices refer to this peace as an experience of knowing oneself.

“World Peace is one project that we have to do together.”

The International Day of Peace was established in 1981 by the United Nations General Assembly. The International Day of Peace, also known as World Peace Day, is observed every year on 21 September. This day is celebrated around the world to strengthen the ideals of peace through observing 24 hours of non-violence and cease-fire.

This day promotes global solidarity for building a peace and sustainable world.

United Nations General Assembly (UNGA) in 1981 established the third Tuesday of September, the opening day of the regular sessions of the General Assembly, as International Day of Peace. Later, in the year 2001, the General Assembly declared 21 September as World Peace.
World peace is an idea of a world without violence, where nations try to work with each other. World peace could mean equal human rights, technology, free education for everyone, engineering, availability of medicine, diplomats and end to all forms of fighting.

World peace means cooperation between countries without any violence. The definition of peace is not just related to absence of war, it also means presence of law and justice in a country.

All of us have imagined ourselves living in peace and harmony, we all want a world where there is no war, no racism, no terrorism and no violence. Unfortunately, no area of this world is safe from the advanced destructive weapons. If one bad thing happens in one area of the world then it has its side effect in other parts of the world too. But the thing is that this is not a recent problem. It had been in existence since a long time.

This planet is facing so many problems right now that it is difficult for one country to solve them. For example, we can't prevent global warming alone, we can't prevent wastage of natural resources on this planet alone, we can't prevent war alone; however, if all the counties cooperate together with peace and unity, then we can reverse this destruction of our planet.

We can also achieve world peace by creative awareness about the benefits of world peace. A country can't get peace if the people living there don't understand the importance of peace and try to implement it in their daily lives.
That is why it is so important to attain world peace and make peace in conflict zones. There must be peace in the nations if there is to be peace in the cities. World peace creates one international community that can concentrate on greater issues that are affecting the planet like climate change.

"World Peace Begins with Inner Peace"
World Peace

Religion comes in many forms, and in some cases, religion are at war with each other. This does not make religion bad. Most of the world would be against that thought. Some religions bad. Most of the world just need to co-operate with each other. Sadly in some countries, religious wars render a country war torn. While everyone should be entitled to their own beliefs, they should be entitled to their own beliefs, they shouldn’t infringe upon another’s.

“You can not find peace by avoiding life.” - Virginia Woolf

Political parties are found in great varieties. Many people, like the founding fathers of United States, had everyone's best interest in mind. Most political parties also have the nation's best interests in mind. Unfortunately, some nations are governed by a political faction forced upon them.

"Peace cannot be kept by force. It can only be achieved by understanding."

peace is liked by all. It is for peace, that we pray to god every morning and evening. Peace hath her victories no less glorious than war. It is in peace time, that we have great men, high thoughts, and golden deeds. Peace encourages education, trade, commerce, and industry, greater than personal peace, is the peace of the nation and still greater is the world peace. This is possible when there is no war in any corner of the world.

Unfortunately the world peace was badly disturbed twice. The beast in man was uppermost then. I would say I was fought, as they said, to end war. Its result were horrible on third of the world population was liked at its close the League of Nations was set up at Geneva. Its aim was to check war in future. But it had no power. The world soon I came in 1939 and lasted upto 1945 'Hitler' and Mussolini then every code of human morality so wind but they were defeated in the end.

The U.N.O was set up at California. It was aimed with end international army. The big four powers were given veto power since its birth it has been trying power s its best to check war and to safe guard the fundamental rights of man. It has declared its objectives. But unfortunately, the big four made one of it as a platform to further national ends. Cold war is going on they are fighting ideological war. In spite of several top meetings for disarmament, there is still a race for nuclear weapons tests and explosions have not been checked. The world is now all the mouth of a volcano.

No one wants war. If war comes this time, it will mean the end of mankind. There will be no victor to enjoy the fruits of victory men like bestrand russed have. Advocated one world court but selfish political one not ready to sink their personal and national interests. Some think that war is a biological need.
Man is a fighter first, so we have no hope from man. It is why Mahatma Gandhi said that woman alone can give peace. She is the incarnation of ahimsa, having intimate love and an infinite capacity for service and sacrifice. She can give the nectar and love to the children. She can produce children like Gandhi, the Christ, and the Buddha.

We need no Napoleon. No alerce, none of the type we want. Prophets of peace let our mother and sister come forward and save the world from total destruction without them there would be no world peace. All time will come when we shall find our existence in danger.
World Peace

Peace doesn’t mean that there will be no conflicts, but it’s the ability to overcome those conflicts peacefully.

World Peace is a commonly debated issue among today’s society. Questions that arise are: Will it ever be attained? When? Is it even possible? These questions... have reached the minds of all, with a variety of opinions and political status.

How can an idea so simple and cherished feel so unattainable? Why is it that we, as a culture, will say we want peace yet inexplicably furnish guns and troops to unstable nations? In order to ensure the well-being of our world, it is our responsibility to identify ways to end the ravaging institution of war.

In the years leading up to 1928, the world made huge steps toward achieving world peace. August 27th, 1928, heralded the signing of the Kellogg-Briand Pact against the institution of war. This Pact reflected the mindset of humanity; without the relling call of the people, countries would not have been able to produce a multinational treaty so revolutionary. It is not enough that the Kellogg-Briand Pact renounces war, the idea requires the unflinching determination of the populace to reject war.

Unfortunately, American society has been misled to believe that by fighting...
We are avoiding future conflict. There has been instilled an idea that war is honorable and patriotic, that fighting is good when in reality, it causes death, poverty, and famine. From an early age, children learn about war and violence. Violent messages permeate movies and video games killing. The media insinuates that violence will solve our problems and lead to peace. This propaganda is perversely false. War cannot be regarded separately from the horrible atrocities the make it up.

In order to insure a peace-oriented society, we must implement what has worked in the past and analyze what actions require modification. One idea that assisted in the creation of the Pact was Aristide Briand's commitment to clarity, simplicity, and popularization. For clarity, we need to inform even the youngest of citizens about the need for peace. We should at least offset—if not eliminate—the toleration of violence with a more vocal praise of peace.

The International Day of Peace, sometimes officially known as World Peace Day, is a United Nations Sanctions holiday observed annually on 21 September. It is dedicated to world peace, and specifically the absence of war and violence. The day was first celebrated in 1981. In 2013 the day was dedicated by the Secretary-General of the United Nations to peace education, the key preventive means to reduce war sustainably.

Peace is a common desire of people throughout world. Keeping peace and developing friendly relations among nations are among the main objectives of the United Nations. Peace is more than absence of war. The true meaning of the day lies in the participation of people around the world, gathering to think about the meaning of peace and their commitment to its realization.
Since the day man has developed the nuclear weapons, nations have been oppressed more and more by a fear from other nations who also have nuclear weapons.

World Peace essay may appear an main idea of which is not only to inform the humanity, but to knock to their consciousness in order to make them aware of the frailties of war. The explanation for this, which may easily be emphasized in world peace essay is quite simple: war hardly ever finishes in the way it has been previously expected and practically never brings total satisfaction to its participants. Anyone interested in custom essay completion may apply to this idea in their writing and to state their personal matters. However much the issue is discussed in number and numerous custom term papers and world peace essays, it needs further development and mass awareness.

An essay about world peace is a kind of writing that deals with the information about global peace or the tranquility in the whole world. Moreover, the idea of peace maintenance should not be imposed from the authorities.
World Peace or Peace on Earth is the concept of an ideal state of happiness, freedom, and Peace within and among all people and nations on planet Earth. Various religious and secular organizations have the stated aim of achieving world peace through addressing human rights, technology, education, engineering, medicine, or diplomacy used as an end to all forms of fighting. Since 1945, the United Nations and the five permanent members of its Security Council (China, France, Russia, U.K., U.S.) have operated under the aim to resolve conflicts without war or declarations of war. Nonetheless, nations have entered numerous military conflicts since then.

Many Buddhists believe that world peace can only be achieved if individuals establish peace within their minds first. The Buddha's teachings emphasize that anger and other negative states of mind are the cause of wars and fighting. Buddhists believe people can live in peace and harmony only if they abandon negative emotions such as anger and cultivate positive emotions such as loving kindness and compassion. As with all Dharmic religions (Hinduism, Jainism, Buddhism and Sikhism), ahimasa is a central concept.

WORLD PEACE

Meaning of world peace

For me, when there is no firing and shelling, it is peace. When firing children do not become victims of mine blasts in my village, it is peace. When I see my mother going to the fields to collect wood and graze animals, it is peace. When I see children playing in the common fields or grounds then I consider it peace.

Cause of destroying world peace.

There are many reasons for the destroying of world peace. World peace has been disrupted by terrorism and epidemics in current world. It has been captured by terrorist attacks in the Taliban in Afghanistan. It has caused unrest all over the world. Wars is raging everywhere. At the same time, the epidemic of COVID-19 has created an atmosphere of seriousness in the world.

Contemporary situation in the world: according to...

According to Umashekar Joshi, ‘a whole world is a nest’, we should try to keep spreading to this thought.

An organization called the United Nations has been set up by the nations of the world to establish world peace.
The organization maintains world peace as well as security and health. World Peace Day is celebrated on September 21 by the world organization.

Different thoughts on world peace:

Stephen Gill, Umashankar Joshi, Mahatma Gandhi, etc., had the idea of world peace. Mahatma Gandhi liberated the whole country through non-violence. Stephen Gill has written poems for world peace. Umashankar Joshi is famous in Gujarati literature as a poet of world peace. It is also one of the best ways to spread world peace. World peace poets should be encouraged for world peace.

What we should do keeping world peace?

It should help in the world’s efforts for world peace. For example, the vibrant culture of the festival that was held in Gujarati can be said to be an effort for world peace. Vibrant Gujarati promotes new trade between traders from home and chered, partnerships can be found in new trades. So that trade peace arrows celebrate and take part in a festival. The language, religion and culture of every person in the world should be respected. Love should be valued with person of every country. We have to stop competing to look down on each other. only then will world peace be maintained. In order to maintain world peace, first of all, the borders between countries should be removed. In order to resolve any issues, the path of peace should be adopted and not war. Every country should strive not to take peace to the highest peak, but to take humanity to the top. Increasing global love should be encouraged through new social media.

Conclusion

World peace is a serious but much needed issue of the modern age. World peace can only be started from a small camp. First the peace of the village,... which becomes the peace of the village, becomes the peace of the district, becomes the peaceful solutions of the country with each other. Become the whole world.

"A peace is necessary for peaceful mind, as like as love, sympathy, and unity is necessary for peaceful world."

World Peace

World peace is an elusive ideal almost any human being would appreciate. If it's something people worldwide wish to survive for, how come it appears so unattainable? Well, this equivocalness is due to the fact that peace is only achievable where people are free and suited with all basic needs and rights. In order for world peace to occur, the whole planet would require such aspects. Suppressed peoples tend to revolt and peace is not possible during a revolution. Without the vital resources for life, people would only be concerned about their survival and when you need to Fight for survival, peace is not on your list of Priorities.

To achieve world peace, all nations and peoples would have to be free. That means no countries could have imperialistic pursuits and take over their counterparts. The reason universal freedom is important is the notion that land means power. Rulers want their countries to be the peoples they may be over-taking and sometimes even enslaving.

One definition of peace is the freedom from strife or dissension, meaning there can be no war and all people must be emancipated or there is no peace.

As psychologist Abraham Maslow described in his hierarchy of needs, basic needs such as food, water, and shelter must be fulfilled before higher-level needs like belongingness and confidence can develop. If people are struggling just to find the basic needs for survival, they are psychologically incapable of living harmoniously with other human beings and such harmony is a vital part of peace.

It is not only needs that must be respected, but also rights. If the masses are not warranted basic rights then they may have no choice but to revolt, for example, during almost every revolution people rose up against their governments because they felt that were being denied fundamental rights every human deserves. As proclaimed in the U.S. declaration of independence, there are certain unalienable rights (life, liberty, and property) that everyone is entitled to. This was a theory first proposed by John Locke. He was correct for without the freedom to live your life and make your own choices, you will never be able to live peacefully in society.

In summation, the Dalai Lama was correct when he said, “Peace can only last where human rights are respected, where the people are fed, and where individuals and nations are free.” Because freedom as well as basic needs and rights are the elements of peace, whether world peace is an attainable goal is debatable since it seems unlikely the whole world would be capable of following such guidelines. We can, however, wish for world peace to become a reality and who knows, maybe one day it will and in the wise words of John Lennon, “The world will live as one.”

WORLD PEACE

Meaning of world peace and what is Peace.

"Peace be upon you, peace be upon you. The knowledge of unrest does not make sense."

Peace means lack of unrest; every thing becomes happy. The meaning of world peace is very wide. Although, it can be said that world Peace means friendship between all countries or people, affection feeling one family, or it can be said that peace can establish non-violence in the whole world and through it all people can live their lives with freedom and happiness puts and end to enmity between all peoples and nations.

What can we as human beings do to establish world peace?

It is very difficult to establish peace in the world, but the power in man that he can accomplish what ever he. He decides so that he can also establish world peace requires self-confidence, patience, adventure, etc. said a poet.

"If any wants world peace then there is self peace to begin with from the beginning through patience and dedication self-confidence."
An important event that prevented world peace from growing.

Well all know that there have been two world wars in the world. And the consequences of his head have come.
